The Uzbek orphography in text editors

Usually there is a chance of checking up the grammar and orphography automatically in the text editors while inserting and editing the documents. This chance has been inserted to the structure of all text editors of operation system and projected basically for English and Russian texts.

We must choose the section "Орфография и грамматика" from the menu "Сервис" or press the button F7 in order to active the control function of grammar and orphography automatically. Then appeared a dialog box "Проверка орфографии" in the screen

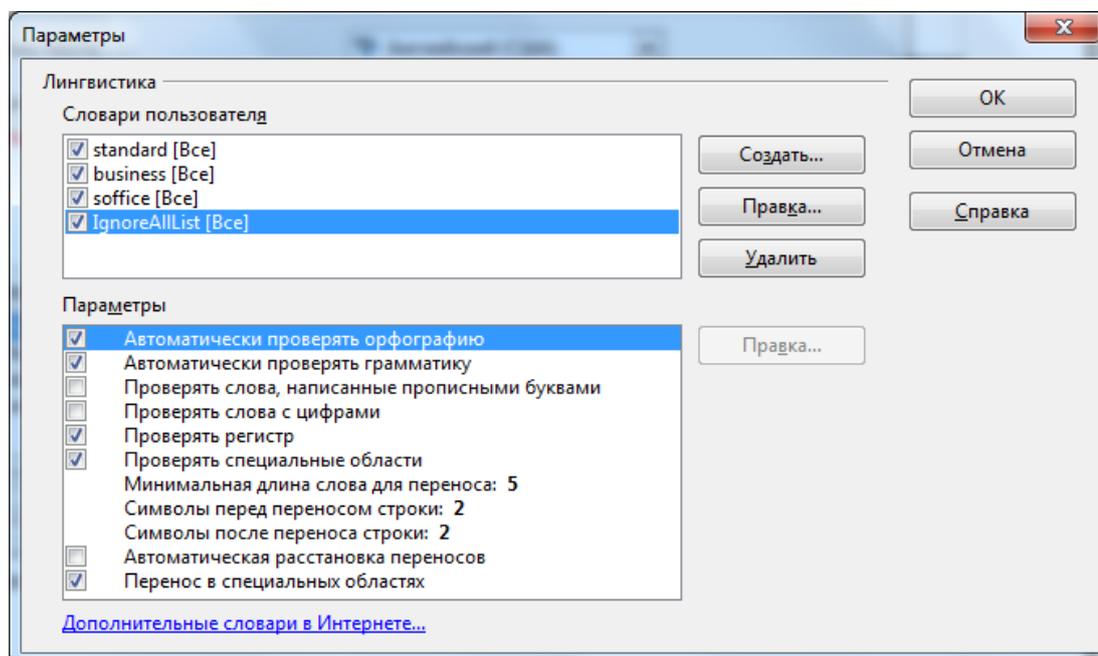

In this screen the first word that doesn't obey orphography rules according to the text will be protected with a red color. On the bottom of the dialog box will be taken out the words list that the meaning is close to the given word of the section "Варианты". After marking the necessary word we can change a marked word by pressing the button "Заменить". The button "Пропустить" misses the flouring mistake and the button "Пропустить все" misses all mistake words of the document. We can add a marked word into the dictionary by the button "Добавить".

We can choose the language of the document from the section. "Язык текста" of the dialog box. Aforesaid we can choose Russian, English and German languages according to the silent rule.
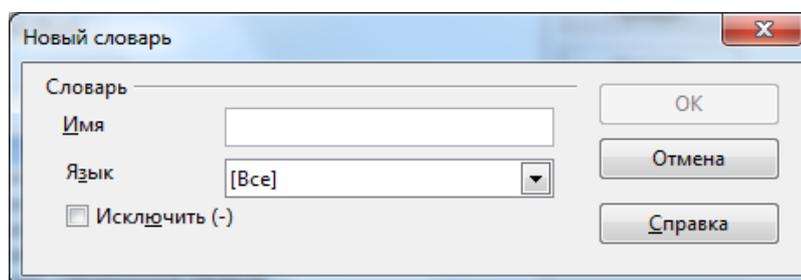

This possibility of the text editors is very comfortable for learners and it gives the opportunity to insert the text and avoid errors in a chosen language.

According to the silence rule we can insert the other languages besides the inserted languages. We must choose the button "Параметры" for doing it.

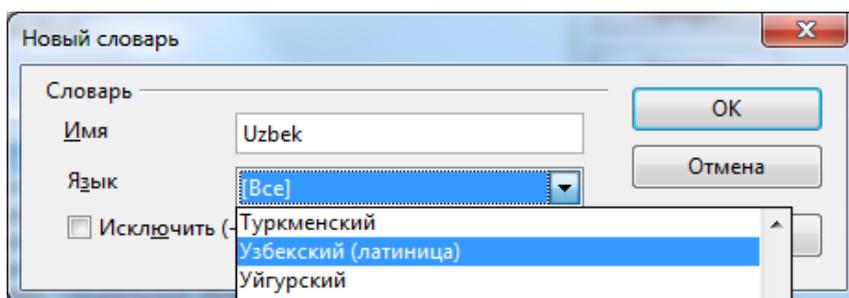

In this position will be taken out on the screen a dialog box "Параметры". With helping this dialog box we can stream to check the orphography. Some possibilities have been cancelled (the more we put possibilities the more program become slowly). On the top of the box has been showed the list of dictionaries. These dictionaries are differed by the subject speciality or a language. In our position have been put four dictionaries, they include all languages. With special buttons we can edit, delete dictionaries, or create a new dictionary.
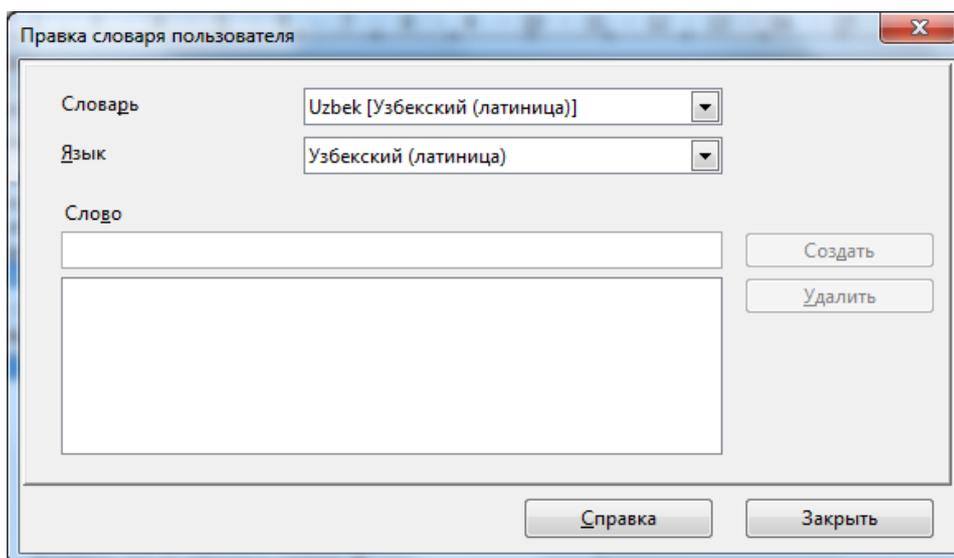

By pressing the button "Создать" we can call this dialog box

In to the field "Имя" of this dialog box we will put the name of the new dictionary. And from the field "Язык" we can choose a necessary language.
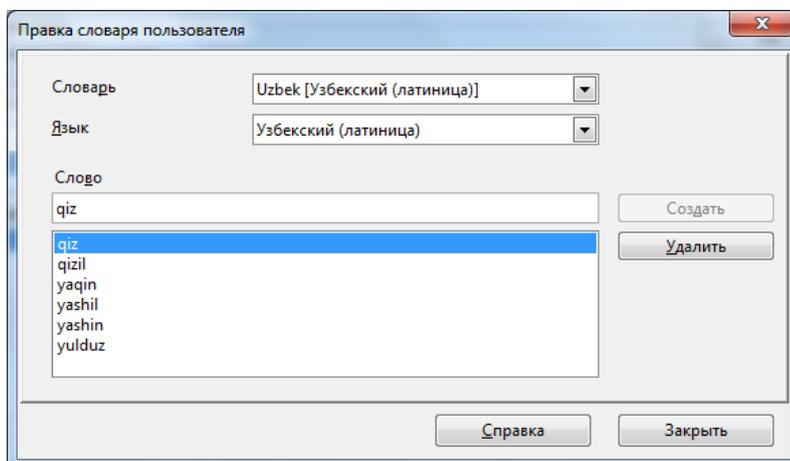

When we create a new language our dictionary will be empty. There are several methods to fill our dictionary with words. First we chose a composed dictionary and press the button "Правка". In this way will be called a dialog box we can insert words into the new dictionary.

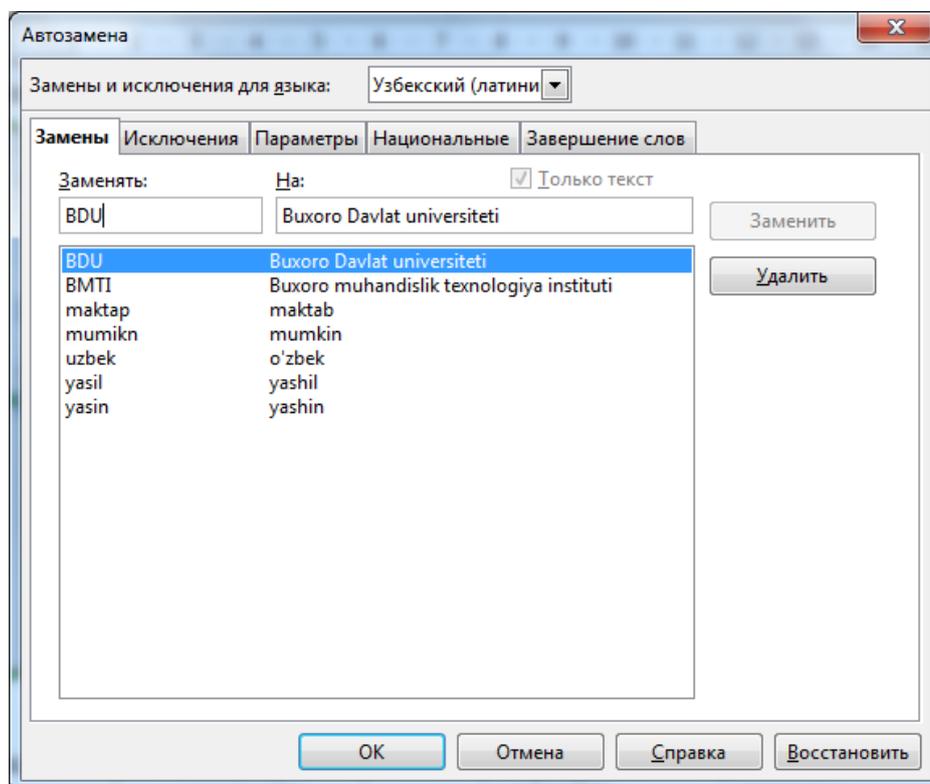

In the field "" of the dialog box will be inserted a new word. In the following field there is an interested words list and we can delete from the list or insert new words.

This process takes us much time but afterwards it facilities to insert the text and we make few mistakes or don't make any mistakes.

On filling the dictionary we don't need to insert all words at the same time. We can change the stricter of the dictionary at any time.

Another possibility of the automatic changing in the text is called "". This possibility helps us to avoid errors which can be made.

We can insert a willing number of the words group into this box.
